International award-winning artist Georgia is well versed in all media but prefers painting in watermedia for its immediate visual feedback. She has a passion for painting outdoors as it's fast, fresh, and exhilarating - the goal being to capture the essence of the scene before you amidst changing light and weather. Georgia feels painting is not so much a photographic copy but more story-telling and how the subject makes you feel, putting your emotions and mood into the painting and making it very personal and moving.
